Warranty Information

Consumer Guarantees

The following information pertaining to the Consumer Guarantees Act will only apply where you have acquired NEC products as a Consumer. You are a Consumer under the Consumer Guarantees Act if you acquire goods or services of a kind ordinarily acquired for personal, domestic or household use or consumption.

The Consumer Guarantees Act protects Consumers by giving them certain guaranteed rights when they buy goods and services. Rights guaranteed under the Consumer Guarantees Act include:

- the goods are of acceptable quality;
- the goods match their description or any sample or demonstration model;
- the goods are fit for any represented purpose or purpose which the Consumer has made known;
- repairs and spare parts are reasonably available (unless notice has been provided that repairs or spare parts would not be available); and
- the services are carried out with reasonable care and skill and are completed within a reasonable time.

These rights are called ‘Consumer Guarantees’ and apply automatically whenever goods or services are supplied to a Consumer. These Consumer Guarantees cannot be refused, changed or limited.

Consumer Guarantees have no set time limit and depending on the price and quality of goods a Consumer may be entitled to a remedy after any manufacturers’ or extended warranty has expired.

For goods or services purchased for commercial use then the above terms do not apply.

Manufacturer’s Warranty

NEC may offer a manufacturer’s warranty on specific NEC products in addition to any other rights or remedies you may have under the Consumer Guarantees Act.

The manufacturer’s warranty set out below is offered by NEC as manufacturer and is not intended to and does not limit your rights with respect to the Consumer Guarantees Act, where applicable. To determine whether the manufacturer’s warranty applies to Your NEC product, please refer to the Specific Warranty Information for Your NEC product. The manufacturer’s warranty must be read in conjunction with any Specific Warranty Information for Your NEC product.

The Specific Warranty Information outlines the Warranty Period, Warranty Type and any specific exclusion for Your NEC product. NEC considers the Warranty Period specified in the Specific Warranty Information to be a reasonable warranty period having regard to the price, design, manufacture and expected use of the NEC product.

General Manufacturer's Warranty ('Warranty')

Our goods come with guarantees that cannot be excluded under the Consumer Guarantees Act. You are entitled to a replacement or refund for a major failure if the goods fail to be of acceptable quality, provided the failure is not caused by any one or a combination of the warranty exclusions. You are also entitled to have the goods repaired or replaced if the goods fail to be of acceptable quality and failure does not amount to a major failure. What constitutes a major failure is set out in the Consumer Guarantees Act.

Subject to the terms and conditions set out below, and unless otherwise specified in the Specific Warranty Information for your NEC product, NEC agrees to repair or replace, at NEC's cost, the NEC product purchased by you in New Zealand from NEC or an NEC Authorised Channel Partner when the product does not perform substantially in accordance with the specifications during the Warranty Period specified in the Specific Warranty Information for your NEC product. NEC makes no other express warranties in respect of your NEC product. To make a claim under this Warranty, valid proof of purchase must be presented when the warranty claim is made. The Warranty offered by NEC is not transferable.

The Warranty will only apply if your NEC product has been installed by NEC or by an authorised representative of NEC and used in accordance with NEC's recommendations (as noted in the operating instructions) under normal use and reasonable care (in the opinion of NEC).

The warranty only applies to NEC products sold by NEC New Zealand for use within New Zealand.
